

Reactions to the Supreme Court's Strike Down of IEEPA Tariffs

President Donald Trump

"Their decision is incorrect. But it doesn't matter because we have very powerful alternatives."

House Minority Leader
Hakeem Jeffries (D-NY)

"The extremists have failed... The President must refrain from any further unilateral action on tariffs."

Vice President JD Vance

"This is lawlessness from the Court, plain and simple. And its only effect will be to make it harder for the president to protect American industries and supply chain resiliency."

Senate Minority Leader
Chuck Schumer (D-NY)

"A victory for the wallets of every American consumer... Trump's illegal tariff tax just collapsed... End the trade war."

House Speaker Mike Johnson (R-LA)

"No one can deny that the President's use of tariffs has brought in billions of dollars. Congress and the Administration will determine the best path forward in the coming weeks."

Sen. Gavin Newsom (D-CA)

"...Your tariffs were nothing more than an illegal cash grab... Every dollar your administration unlawfully took needs to be immediately refunded — with interest."

Rep. Carlos Gimenez (R-FL)

"President Trump has MANY options to impose decisive economic action against rogue regimes."

Gov. Jared Polis (D-CO)

"America is back on the global stage. Today the Supreme Court said loud and clear: only Congress has the authority to impose taxes, including tariffs."

Rep. John Rose (R-TN)

"Our nation just took a giant leap backward... It is the high court's opinion that it is now up to Congress to protect U.S. economic interests."

Rep. Mike Levin (D-CA)

"This decision is a win for the rule of law and a reminder that when this or any president undermines constitutional checks... it's our job to stop it."
