

Congressional Retirements by State

With less than four months until the November congressional elections, the number of lawmakers not seeking re-election continues to grow. Check out how many members from each state will not be returning for the 120th Congress and where the highest turnover is taking shape.

D- 38 members
R- 49 Members